Virtues of Making a Will

Hadhrat Abdullah bin Umar radiyallahu anhu reports that Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wa sallam) said, "It is not permissible for any Muslim, who has something to bequeath, to stay for two nights without having his last will and testament written and kept ready with him. (Mishkaat). Hadhrat Ibn Umar (radiyallahu anhu) says, "After hearing this from Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wa sallam), I did not allow even one night to pass by me except that I had my wasiyyah written down."

Purpose of Making a Will

In Islam, a will is not made to distribute shares to whom one desires as Allah Ta'ala has already given every rightful person his dutiful share. All those who are going to inherit, and how much, is already defined by Allah Ta'ala. However, the purpose of a will is to leave the world in such a manner that no matters pertaining to yourself remain unresolved after your demise. It is thus important to clarify all one's matters in a will so that the survivors of the deceased are not left in any doubt as to what should be done with the affairs of the deceased.

PREScribed ADVICE TO MY CHILDREN AND FAMILY MEMBERS

(Use this as a guideline to advise your heirs and family members.)

1. When the time of death approaches, read Surah Yaaseen by my side or have it recited by someone. Read the kalimah in an audible tone around me. Ensure that no ghair mahrams are present.
2. After my death, make immediate arrangements for my ghusl and other burial rites. Do not delay in this and make sure no ghair mahram touches my body. Similarly, do not show my face to ghair mahrams.
3. With regard to ghusl, kafn and burial, etc. adhere strictly to the sunnah of Rasulullah (sallallahu alayhi wa sallam).
4. When laying me in the room, please make sure that no ghair mahrams are present. Also ensure that nobody screams or cries aloud unnaturally. Do not utter any word that is against Shariah.
5. Do not transport my body unnecessarily to any place. Bury me in the area where I die, in a Muslim cemetery. DO NOT DELAY the Janaazah Salaah in waiting for people from far off places.
6. If, by the grace of Allah Ta'ala, I die on a Thursday night or Friday morning, bury me before the Jumu'ah Salaah if possible.
7. Have my Janaazah Salaah performed by a pious righteous one who strictly follows the dictates of Shariah. Bury me in accordance to the Sunnah. After burying me, stand by my graveside for a while and recite some Qur-aan.
8. Pay my kaffarah for my missed salaahs, fasting, etc. (refer to will.)
9. Continuously do good actions and convey the reward to me. At least, recite Surah al-Ikhlaas thrice everyday and convey the rewards to me.
10. The males of my family are requested to visit my grave regularly, at least once a week. Do not forget to continuously make du'a for me that Allah Ta'ala save me from the torments of the grave and the difficulties of the Hereafter.
11. Remember not to solidify my grave with bricks or tombstones, etc. Also, do not plant anything on my grave as this is not a sunnah.
12. Do not donate any organ or part of my body.
